LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Note: Beijing International Electric Engineering Co., Ltd. and Beijing District Heating (Group) Co., Ltd. are wholly-owned subsidiaries of BEH and BEH is wholly-owned by Beijing State-owned Capital Operation and Management Center. Therefore, Beijing International Electric Engineering Co., Ltd., Beijing District Heating (Group) Co., Ltd. and Beijing State-owned Capital Operation and Management Center are considered to have material interest in the Proposed Subscription and the General Mandate and will, together with BEH, abstain from voting on the resolutions in respect of the Proposed Subscription and the General Mandate at the AGM.

(H) Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription (after deducting all applicable costs and expenses, including the legal fees) are expected to be approximately RMB3,076.27 million (equivalent to approximately HK$3,520.12 million). The net price (after deducting all applicable costs and expenses, including the legal fees) raised per Domestic Share and H Share upon completion of the Proposed Subscription will be approximately RMB2.239 (equivalent to approximately HK$2.56).

The net proceeds from the issue of the Domestic Shares and the H Shares are intended to be used to repay onshore and offshore short-term bonds and bank loans.

Lender	Interest rate	Maturity date	Principal
The third tranche of onshore short-term bond in 2016	3.030%	28 October 2017	RMB1,000 million
The first tranche onshore short-term bond in 2017	4.300%	4 December 2017	RMB2,000 million
Beijing Rural Commercial Bank, Xinyuan Branch	3.915%	28 October 2017	RMB100 million
Shanghai Pudong Development Bank, Beijing Fucheng Branch	3.915%	20 November 2017	RMB240 million
Offshore RMB-denominated bond	4.300%	23 December 2017	RMB1,000 million
Total:			RMB4,340 million

To the extent that the total net proceeds raised from the issue of the Domestic Shares and H Shares are not sufficient to repay all the debt set out above, the Company will apply its general working capital to repay the remaining loans.

(I) Reasons for and Benefit of the Proposed Subscription

The Company operates in a capital-intensive business. The operation and development of its businesses, including the construction of power plants, request significant capital expenditure. The Proposed Subscription could satisfy the capital needs of the Company so as to accommodate the fast development of the Company's businesses. The net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription will be used to repay onshore and offshore short-term bonds and banks loans of the Company. After repayment, the debt and capital structure of the Company will be optimised and the Company will be better positioned in the capital and debt markets in terms of capital raising capability and would be able to bargain for more favourable terms with lenders and investors in future possible fund raising activities.

Having considered all possible fund raising methods, the Board also believes that the Company will derive the following benefits from the Proposed Subscription:

- (i) the subscription price of the Domestic Shares and H Share represented a premium to the average closing price of H Shares of the Company, which is more favourable than the terms that the Company is likely to obtain from independent third party investors; and
- (ii) the Proposed Subscription is more cost-saving as compared to other fund raising methods, including (i) bank borrowings, which would incur additional finance expenses; and (ii) open offer or right issue, which would incur significant additional expenses, such as underwriter's commission.

Based on the above, the Directors (excluding the independent non-executive Directors, whose view will be given in the Letter of the Independent Board Committee) consider that the terms of the Share Subscription Agreements are fair and reasonable, and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole.

Mr. Zhu Yan, the chairman of BEH, Mr. Li Dawei, the vice chairman of BEH, Mr. Guo Mingxing, a director and general manager of BEH and Mr. Zhu Baocheng, the financial chief of BEH, are regarded as having material interest and have abstained from voting on the Board resolution for approving the Proposed Subscription.

PRINCIPAL FACTORS AND REASONS CONSIDERED

In arriving at our opinion in respect of the Proposed Subscription, we have taken into consideration the following principal factors and reasons:

(1) Background and reasons for the Proposed Subscription

With reference to the Board Letter, the Company is a clean energy company focusing on gas-fired power and heat energy generation, wind power, photovoltaic power, small to medium hydropower and other clean energy generation businesses, which helps claim the Company the titles of the internationally well-known clean energy enterprise, industry-leading clean energy brand and largest gas-fired power supplier in Beijing and the leading wind power operator in China.

With reference to the 2016 Annual Report, net gearing ratio, calculated by dividing net debts (total borrowings minus cash and cash equivalents) by the sum of net debts and total equity, was approximately 57.47% as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: 58.84%).

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

Information on the Subscribers

BEH, a limited liability company incorporated in the PRC, which engages in the businesses of generation and supplying of electricity and heat, production and sale of coal and development of real estate. It is wholly owned by Beijing State-owned Assets Management Co., Ltd.

Beijing Energy Investment, a limited liability company incorporated in Hong Kong and a wholly-owned subsidiary of BEH. It is primarily engages in investment holding.

Reasons for and benefits of the Proposed Subscription and the use of proceeds

With reference to the Board Letter, the Company operates in a capital-intensive business. The operation and development of its businesses, including the construction of power plants, request significant capital expenditure. The Proposed Subscription could satisfy the capital needs of the Company so as to accommodate the fast development of the Company's businesses. The net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription will be used to repay onshore and offshore short-term bonds and banks loans of the Company. After repayment, the debt and capital structure of the Company will be optimised and the Company will be better positioned in the capital and debt markets in terms of capital raising capability and would be able to bargain for more favourable terms with lenders and investors in future possible fund raising activities.

Financing alternatives available to the Group

The Company did not conduct any fund raising activity through the issue of equity securities in the 12 months immediately before the Last Trading Date up to the Latest Practicable Date.

We have enquired into the Directors and were informed by the Directors that the Group has considered various methods, namely debt financing and equity financing, for fund raising. Nevertheless, the Directors advised us that upon comprehensive consideration, the Company prefers equity financing which could save the financial cost, and further optimize the gearing ratio and the financial position, enabling the Company to expand sustainably in the future.

With regard to equity financing, the Directors advised us that although both open offer and rights issue would allow Shareholders to maintain their respective pro-rata shareholdings in the Company and at the same time to strengthen the capital base of the Company, such fund raising exercises (i) require the Company to procure commercial underwriting, which may incur addition cost; and (ii) more likely than not set the subscription price at a discount to current market price of the Share in order to encourage existing Shareholders to participate, while the subscription prices under the Share Subscription Agreements represent a premium to the closing price per H Share on the Last Trading Day, the Directors consider that open offer and rights issue would not be in the interests of the Independent Shareholders in this regard.

The Directors are hence of the opinion that the Proposed Subscription is a more preferable method of fund raising for the Group according to the proposed use of proceeds.

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

Use of proceeds

The net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription (after deducting all applicable costs and expenses, including the legal fees) are expected to be approximately RMB3,076.27 million (equivalent to approximately HK$3,520.12 million). The net price (after deducting all applicable costs and expenses, including the legal fees) raised per Domestic Share and H Shares upon completion of the Proposed Subscription will be approximately RMB2.239 (equivalent to approximately HK$2.56) and HK$2.56 (equivalent to approximately RMB2.239) respectively.

The net proceeds from the issue of the Domestic Shares and the H Shares are intended to be used to repay part of the following onshore and offshore short-term bonds and bank loans:

Lender	Interest rate	Maturity date	Principal
The third tranche of onshore short-term bond in 2016	3.030%	28 October 2017	RMB1,000 million
The first tranche onshore short-term bond in 2017	4.300%	4 December 2017	RMB2,000 million
Beijing Rural Commercial, Bank Xinyuan Branch	3.915%	28 October 2017	RMB100 million
Shanghai Pudong Development Bank, Beijing Fucheng Branch	3.915%	20 November 2017	RMB240 million
Offshore RMB-denominated bond	4.300%	23 December 2017	RMB1,000 million
Total:			RMB4,340 million

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

To the extent that the total net proceeds raised from the issue of the Domestic Shares and H Shares are not sufficient to repay all the debt set out above, the Company will apply its general working capital to repay the remaining loans.

As mentioned above, as at 31 December 2016, the Group recorded cash and cash equivalents of approximately RMB1.77 billion. In respect of the liabilities position of the Group, bank and other borrowings (due within one year), short-term debentures and corporate bonds (due within one year) amounted to approximately RMB7.79 billion, RMB6.00 billion and RMB2.20 billion respectively. With reference to the 2016 Annual Report, net gearing ratio, calculated by dividing net debts (total borrowings minus cash and cash equivalents) by the sum of net debts and total equity, was approximately 57.47% as at 31 December 2016 (31 December 2015: 58.84%).

With reference to the 2016 Annual Report, looking forward, the Group will continue to expand its domestic and overseas markets to undertake more quality works, exquisite works and works with high returns, thereby maximizing Shareholders' interest and creating higher value of the Group. The Group will continue to grow both its scale and strength through self-development, acquisitions, merger and acquisition, and other means. The future business plan of the Group will employ a combination of financing channels to finance capital expenditures, including but not limited to internal funds and bank loans. Upon our discussion with the Directors, we understood that the debt and capital structure of the Company will be optimized (i.e. decrease in the Group's liabilities position) upon the repayment, being the purpose of the use of proceeds from the Proposed Subscription. The Company will be better positioned in the capital and debt markets, to be a combination of increasing channels to finance capital expenditures for the Group's future business plan as mentioned above, in terms of capital raising capability and would be able to bargain for more favourable terms with lenders and investors in future possible fund raising activities.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Company had not negotiated for extension or renewal of the existing short-term bonds and bank loans due to the fact that the Company proposed to apply proceeds from the Proposed Subscription for the purpose of repayment. This would optimize gearing ratio and financial position of the Group.

In light of (i) the outstanding amount of borrowings which will be due by 31 December 2017; (ii) after repayment, the Company's debt and capital structure will be optimised and the Company will be better positioned in the capital and debt markets in terms of capital raising capability and would be able to bargain for more favourable terms with lenders and investors in future possible fund raising activities, we consider that the proposed use of proceeds from the Proposed Subscription to be acceptable.

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

Size of the Proposed Subscription

With reference to the Board Letter, the Domestic Shares and H Shares will be issued and allotted by the Company pursuant to the general mandate to be sought from the approval of Shareholders at the AGM to be held on 28 June 2017. As at the Latest Practicable Date, the issued share capital of the Company comprised 6,870,423,454 Shares, including 4,512,359,454 Domestic Shares and 2,358,064,000 H Shares. Subject to the passing of relevant resolution and on the basis that no further Shares are issued before the AGM, the Company will be allowed to issue a maximum of 902,471,890 Domestic Shares and 471,612,800 H Shares.

Having considered that (i) the subscription shares will be issued and allotted by the Company pursuant to the proposed general mandate and the number of Domestic Shares and H Shares are in line with the number of Shares to be allowed to issue under the general mandate of the Company; (ii) outstanding bank and other borrowings of the Group as mentioned above, we consider the size of the Proposed Subscription to be acceptable.

Having considered (i) the Proposed Subscription being the most appropriate fund raising method currently available to the Group due to the reasons as set forth under the sub-section headed “Financing alternatives available to the Group” above; (ii) the proposed use of the net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription; (iii) participation by BEH and Beijing Energy Investment in the Proposed Subscription will demonstrate solid confidence of BEH, being the controlling Shareholder, in the prospect of the Company; and (iv) the size of the Proposed Subscription to be acceptable, we consider that the Proposed Subscription and transactions contemplated thereunder (including grant of the General Mandate), although are not conducted in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Group, are in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole.

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

Analysis on the subscription price

The subscription price of RMB2.24 (equivalent to approximately HK$2.56) per Domestic Share represents:

- (a) a premium of approximately 8.94% over the closing price of HK$2.35 per H Share as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange on the Latest Practicable Date;
- (b) a premium of approximately 9.87% over the closing price of HK$2.33 per H Share as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange on the date of the Domestic Shares Subscription Agreement (the “Premium (Domestic)”); and
- (c) a premium of approximately 10.82% over the average closing price of approximately HK$2.31 per H Share as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange for the last 5 consecutive trading days up to and including the Last Trading Day;
- (d) a premium of approximately 10.34% over the average closing price of approximately HK$2.32 per H Share as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange for the last 10 consecutive trading days up to and including the Last Trading Day;
- (e) a premium of approximately 11.30% over the average closing price of HK$2.30 per H Share as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange for the last 20 consecutive trading days up to and including the Last Trading Day; and
- (f) the audited consolidated net asset value of approximately RMB2.24 per Share as at 31 December 2016 (based on the audited consolidated statement of financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2016 and the number of Shares in issue as at 31 December 2016).

With reference to the Board Letter, the subscription price per Domestic Share was determined, after arm’s length negotiations between the Company and BEH, at the higher of (i) the net assets per Share as at 31 December 2016, being RMB2.24 per Share (equivalent to HK$2.56; and (ii) a 5% premium over the closing price of HK$2.33 per H Share at the date of the Share Subscription Agreements, being HK2.45 per H Share. The exchange rate is HK$1: RMB0.87391, being the average median exchange rate announced by the People’s Bank of China on the date of the Share Subscription Agreements.

In order to assess the fairness and reasonableness of the subscription price, we have reviewed the daily closing price of the Shares as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange from 1 June 2016 up to and including the Last Trading Day (the “Review Period”), being approximately one year prior to the date of the Share Subscription Agreements, which reflects recent closing price trend of the Company and is commonly used for analysis purpose. The comparison of daily closing prices of the Shares and the subscription price is illustrated as follows:

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

As part of our analysis, we have also identified transactions regarding subscription of new shares/H shares during the period from 1 May 2017 up to the date of the Share Subscription Agreements as announced (being the recent one month period prior to and including date of the Share Subscription Agreements) by companies listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange (the “Comparables”). We consider that a sampling period of approximately one month is adequate and appropriate given that (i) such period is sufficiently recent to demonstrate the prevailing market practices prior to and including date of the Share Subscription Agreements; and (ii) we are able to identify sufficient samples for comparison with such period. To the best of our knowledge and as far as we are aware of, we found 14 transactions which met the said criteria and they are exhaustive. Despite that the businesses, operations and prospects of the Company are not the same as the subject companies of the Comparables, the Comparables could provide a general reference for the recent (i.e. one month period prior to and including date of the Share Subscription Agreements) common market practice of Hong Kong listed companies in the subscription of new shares. As such, we are of the view that the Comparables are fair and representative. Summarised below is our relevant findings:

Company name	Stock code	Date of announcement	Premium/(discount) of the issue price over/to the closing price per share on the last trading day prior to/on the date of announcement/agreement in relation to the respective subscription of share %
China Everbright Bank Company Limited	6818	2 May 2017	48.01
Cosmo Lady (China) Holdings Company Limited	2298	5 May 2017	9.17

China HealthCare Holdings Limited	673	10 May 2017	8.28
Guangdong Join-Share Financing Guarantee Investment Co., Ltd.*	1543	15 May 2017	Nil

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

Maximum			48.01
Minimum			(19.28)
Average			1.40
The Company	579	1 June 2017	9.87

As shown by the above table, the subscription prices of the Comparables ranged from a discount of approximately 19.28% to a premium of approximately 48.01% to the respective closing prices of their shares on the last trading day prior to/on the date of the announcement/agreement in relation to the relevant share subscription (the “Market Range”), with an average of a premium of approximately 1.40%. The Premium (Domestic) is thus within the Market Range and above the average of the Comparables.

Having taken into account that (i) the subscription price of RMB2.24 (equivalent to approximately HK$2.56) per Domestic Share is within the range of the lowest and highest closing prices of the Shares as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange during the Review Period; (ii) during the Review Period, the subscription price was above the daily closing prices of the Shares on 237 trading days out of the total 245 trading days; and (iii) the Premium (Domestic) is within the Market Range and above the average of the Comparables, we consider that the subscription price is fair and reasonable so far as the Independent Shareholders are concerned.

(B) Principal Terms of the H Shares Subscription Agreement

Date: 1 June 2017

Parties: The Company (as the issuer); and
Beijing Energy Investment (as the subscriber).

Subject matter:

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

- (f) the audited consolidated net asset value of approximately RMB2.24 per Share as at 31 December 2016 (based on the audited consolidated statement of financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2016 and the number of Shares in issue as at 31 December 2016).

With reference to the Board Letter, the subscription price per H Share was determined, after arm's length negotiations between the Company and Beijing Energy Investment, at the higher of (i) the net assets per Share as at 31 December 2016, being RMB2.24 (equivalent to HK$2.56) per Share; and (ii) a 5% premium over the closing price of HK$2.33 per H Share at the date of the Share Subscription Agreements, being HK2.45 per H Share. The exchange rate is HK$1: RMB0.87391, being the average median exchange rate announced by the People's Bank of China on the Last Trading Day.

Having taken into account that (i) the subscription price of HK$2.56 per H Share is within the range of the lowest and highest closing prices of the Shares as quoted on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange during the Review Period; (ii) during the Review Period, the subscription price per H Share was above the daily closing prices of the Shares on 237 trading days out of the total 245 trading days; and (iii) the Premium (H Share) is within the Market Range and above the average of the Comparables, we consider that the subscription price is fair and reasonable so far as the Independent Shareholders are concerned.

Taking into account the principal terms of the Share Subscription Agreements as highlighted above, we are of the view that the terms of the Share Subscription Agreements are on normal commercial terms and are fair and reasonable so far as the Independent Shareholders are concerned.

(3) Dilution effect on the shareholding interests of the existing public Shareholders

As depicted by the table under the section headed "Effects on shareholding structure of the Company" of the Board Letter, upon completion of the Proposed Subscription, the shareholding interests of the existing public Shareholders would be diluted by approximately 5.720 percent point. In view of (i) the Proposed Subscription being the most appropriate fund raising method currently available to the Group due to the reasons as set out under the section headed "Financing alternatives available to the Group" above; (ii) the proposed use of the net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription; (iii) participation by BEH and Beijing Energy Investment in the Proposed Subscription will demonstrate solid confidence of BEH, being the controlling Shareholder, in the prospect of the Company; and (iv) the terms of the Share Subscription Agreements being fair and reasonable, we are of the view that the aforementioned level of dilution to the shareholding interests of the existing public Shareholders is acceptable.

(4) Financial effects of the Proposed Subscription

With reference to the Board Letter, the net proceeds from the Proposed Subscription will all be used to repay onshore and offshore short-term bonds and bank loans.

LETTER FROM GRAM CAPITAL

As advised by the Directors, immediately upon completion of the Proposed Subscription and upon the repayment of onshore and offshore short-term bonds and bank loans, the Company's net asset value would be increased while the total liabilities would be decreased respectively.

It should be noted that the aforementioned analyses are for illustrative purpose only and does not purport to represent how the financial position of the Group will be upon completion of the Proposed Subscription.

RECOMMENDATION

Having taken into consideration the factors and reasons as stated above, we are of the opinion that (i) the terms of the Share Subscription Agreement are on normal commercial terms and are fair and reasonable so far as the Independent Shareholders are concerned; and (ii) the Proposed Subscription and transactions contemplated thereunder (including grant of the General Mandate), although are not conducted in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Group, are in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole. Accordingly, we recommend the Independent Board Committee to advise the Independent Shareholders to vote in favour of the resolution(s) to be proposed at the AGM to approve the Share Subscription Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder (including grant of the General Mandate) and we recommend the Independent Shareholders to vote in favour of the resolution(s) in this regard.
